Event Profile

azubi- & studientage Leipzig offers exhibitors from the worlds of industry, commercial trade, crafts, services, social institutions, universities, colleges, polytechnic institutions, private academic institutions and vocational education facilities to meet in person with qualified young people.

This fair is aimed at pupils in the final years of all stages of their school education, as well as at re-trainees or students changing their course of study, who are interested in higher education or vocational training opportunities. Directors of education and training from the various companies and institutions provide information about their programmes and facilities at the fair stands, while apprenticeship trainees share their experiences with the pupils.

School pupils in their last two years at every school education level can obtain information about higher education and vocational training opportunities. They can obtain first-hand information at the fair stands on various careers, training programme and curriculum content and personal development, promotion and advanced education and training possibilities at the respective companies and institutions.
