Product Segments

- Decentralized energy technology Renewable energies (bioenergy, solar energy, geothermal energy), cogeneration / fuel cell technologies
- Key technologies for energy conversion and power supply
- Distribution of energy (especially decentralized net work technologies, network management, Smart Grids)
- Storage of energy (energy storage technologies, complete energy storage systems, electric mobility)
- Energy efficiency technologies

- Process measurement, control and analysis technologies / automation (especially: smart metering, geodata infrastructures)
- Energy supply and services

Event Profile

enertec showcases efficient technologies and innovative services for the close-to-load generation, distribution and storage of energy.

enertec decentral: The trade fair sets a priority here and focuses on decentralized solutions involving renewable energies and cogeneration. Unique: the combination with the TerraTec – International Trade Fair for Environmental Technologies and Services – makes Leipzig the comprehensive presentation platform for the entire supply and disposal industry. Internationally, the enertec concentrates on the energy markets of Central, Eastern and Southeastern Europe and CIS. Visitors come from these regions, Germany and other EU member states. The core of trade visitors are decision makers representing industry, trade, engineering firms, municipal utilities, municipalities and public institutions. The enertec is especially popular due to its combination with a high-calibre program of specialized events.
